'BYU Comes Before Groups,' IOC Told in Opening Meeting

STUDENT ORGANIZATION day night by Dr. Henry L. Isakson, student coordinator.

FIRST ALLEGIANCE goes to the school," Dr. Isakson said. "Activities must be in relation to the total university program."

Dr. Isakson then challenged the student officers attending the meeting, conducted by IOC President Karl Snow, to "operate by the spirit of the law and not the letter of the law."

These were the remarks addressed to members of BYU's Inter-Organizational Council at its first meeting of the year Monday night.

Business Meeting For Legislators Scheduled Tonight

Will Tingey, student body president, has called the first business meeting of the legislative council for tonight at 7 p.m. in the executive council conference room.

Items already on the agenda for tonight include administration of the legislative council to all members of legislative council and administration of the state of Utah to all members.

Several appointments will be approved or disapproved by the legislative council, the student body president said. Included in the appointments are four y'all leaders who have been authorized by the pep committee.

Agenda and attendance committee chairman are also scheduled at the meeting.

Tingey said that a constitutional committee will be appointed for the purpose of "aiding" the legislative council and student body on several constitutional changes that were debated last spring because of an unaffiliated volume of student body votes.

All legislative council members must be present for the meeting," he said. The meeting is scheduled to last until 9 p.m. or until all business is finished.

Dr. Isakson then challenged the student officers attending the meeting, conducted by IOC President Karl Snow, to "operate by the spirit of the law and not the letter of the law."

IOC is composed of presidents of all student organizations on campus.

IT IS THROUGH IOC that organization activities will be coordinated this year, Snow said. Other business performed by the Council Monday was the election of a Central Rushing Committee, to supervise rushing procedure during the year.

Kenneth Hordley, KBYU radio station representative, presented a plan for the production of a radio show for campus organizations.

Next IOC meeting will be Oct. 17, Snow announced.

Mat Dance Tonight Features Y's Men

Weekly Mat Dance is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. in the Social Hall. Gus Shields and Y's Men will provide the music for the dance, which is one of the activities of "Club Week." Upperclassmen will have first choice of the female "cubs" after which the male freshmen can select their mates for the dance.

Today is the deadline for buying season dance tickets. They can be purchased at the door for seventy cents. General admission is ten cents per dance.

Dance Chairman, Wendie Lee Pavecek, asks that students do not request special favors from the band, because they already have their music arrangements tightly scheduled.

Elder Declares That Prophet Measures Up to Counterparts

Elder Hugh B. Brown, assistant to the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, told students and faculty members at Brigham Young University that the Prophet Joseph Smith was equal to prophets in biblical times both in spoken words and actions.

The Church official addressed the group in the George Albert Smith Plechouse yesterday during the regular Tuesday devotional period.

He related an incident which occurred during his mission, when a personal friend who was a member of the British Parliament and also a cabinet member, requested an argument for the validity of the Joseph Smith story.

Elder Brown said that he made about Joseph Smith against a pile of biblical prophets, and that the British dignitary was forced to agree that the comparison was valid.

The student body was challenged to attempt to write a chapter of the Book of Mormon by Elder Brown. Anyone attempting such a feat would encounter numerous problems," he asserted.

Among the problems he mentioned were scientific, historical, research, and the test of comparison with the Bible. "The Book of Mormon," he added, "has been proven to be in complete harmony with the Bible after more than a century of attempted rebuttal by scholars."

President David O. McKay is scheduled to address the student body and faculty in next week's devotional.

Social Unit Rushing Postponed A Week

Rushing activities are postponed until next week, Karl Snow, Inter-Organizational Council President has announced. This delay will enable IOC to organize and conduct the new rushing procedures and controls for social units can go into effect this quarter.

Rushing activities are postponed until next week, and the new rushing procedures and controls will go into effect at that time. Snow said. The new controls and procedures, formulated by last year's Central Rushing Committee, were recently approved by the administration.

Rushing procedures are to be administered by the Central Rushing Committee, which was elected Monday night at IOC meeting.

'Traditional' to Beat BYU, Say Utes Ute Pile High, Say President

"NO DOUBT we'll beat you, it's just a tradition here," were the words used by University of Utah Studentbody President Earl Wenderly yesterday in a phone call by Tom Reeve, pep committee chairman, concerning the bonfire burning contest being held this week between the two schools.

"I don't know the height of our pile, but there is a big one over there," he said. "We wish wonderful cooperation from organizations on campus in gathering flammable material."

THE BURNING material which is being built in the lot north of the student parking lot is still in the infant stage, according to Lambert Bone, bonfire chairman. A meeting was held yesterday to select aid of social units, newspaper, classes and other groups on campus in gathering material for the bonfire.

Several telephone poles are being acquired. They will be firm, of them, a part type. "We wish will have a sign 'There's a Ute Inside,' Ripe said."

MORE BURNABLE debris will then be piled on the debris "to rid our campus of the sight of the word 'night Ute,' Bone said."

Students are urged to gather useless wood from the area to put on the fire. Bone said a plea to all students living in town who know of useless wood to get in touch with the committee at being the wood to the pile.

Burning of the pile will be at the "Beat Utah" pep rally at 5 p.m. Friday night, Bone said.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Khrushchev appealed to France Tuesday to end its boycott of the U.N. Assembly and return for the forthcoming debate on Algeria.

The Indian diplomat, writing up the assembly's general debate, expressed "deep regret" that the French had walked out of the 60-day body.

India was one of the 28 countries which voted over French opposition last Friday to rescind the Algerian prohibition on the Assembly's agenda and thus provoked the French walkout.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday he expects President Eisenhower to be sufficiently recovered before long to deal with major foreign policy matters.

But, Dulles emphasized at his news conference that, as of the moment, there was no international issues of such urgency to require Eisenhower's personal attention.

Dulles said he had no definite idea about when he might go to Denver to talk over foreign policy questions with Eisenhower. He said there were two factors to consider: the President's improving health and the urgency of any matters at hand.

The secretary said that while the President's illness was a cause for sadness it was not a cause for alarm.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday he has told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that Communist bloc news deliveries to the Middle East "would not contribute to relaxing tensions" in the world.

Dulles said that when he was recently at the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, he discussed the Middle East problem twice with Molotov.

Students Purchase Sufficient Tickets To Charter Train

Enough tickets have been sold to charter the "Scalpin Special" special train to Saturday night's game against the University of Utah," announced Dick Bell, chairman of the train committee. A second train is being considered if enough students are interested in buying tickets.

There will be the need for an additional 500 students if the second train is to be chartered.

If groups around school desire to have seating together on the train, they are asked to count how many are going, and to submit the number to the train committee, who in turn, will draw a diagram of the seating arrangement and put in it little organizational correspondence boxes in the student coordinator's office. Bell emphasized that it is important for each group to submit two signs advertising their group for identification purposes on the train.

Ticket sales will end Friday, Oct. 5, at 5 p.m., so all students are urged to buy their tickets as soon as possible.

Traffic Warnings Not Being Issued; It'll Be a Summons

No warnings will be issued this year to students who violate campus laws. First offense will be enough to warrant a traffic summons, warns Capt. L. E. Christensen, head of the Campus Security department.

Students are asked to enter the speedster parking lots by the north entrance, and to park against the painted lines in two rows only.

All traffic accidents involving twenty-five dollar damage must be reported to the state, he said.

Future plans of the Security Office entail marking the curbs in colors instead of the use of signs. The curbs will be marked as follows: yellow—commercial trucks, twenty minutes limit; red—no parking, green—limited for passenger parking, twenty minutes parking; white—passenger unloading, driver must stay in car, five minutes limit.

The Police warn that any vehicle parked on the city streets for 72 hours continuously will be impounded. Owners of vehicles found with defective equipment such as brakes, headlights, etc. are subject to punishment, Capt. Christensen said.
